The Qur'an, the Gospel and the God's Redemption plan.

By Abelgosa January of 2025

The apostle Paul of the first century of the Christian era founded the Christian church of the city of Thessalonica in Europe. The Thessalonians received the gospel as the very word of God. They honored God's message by joyfully receiving the gospel as the very word of God. It must be considered that according to the Qur'an the Gospel has descended from heaven[1] Surah 3:3, and everything that descends from heaven is a revelation from God. We find in Surah 4:46,

> "We caused Jesus, son of Mary, to succeed them, in confirmation of what was already in the Torah. We gave him the Gospel, which contains Direction and Light, in confirmation of what was already in the Torah and as Guidance and Exhortation for the God-fearing."

[1] Surah 3:3 We use here El Noble Corán Spanish translate to English, (by Ghani) and Maulawi Sher translation.

It is clear that the Gospel comes from heaven, and is a confirmation of the Torah, and that is true insofar as in the Torah and Tanah God prepares mankind to receive the Gospel. The prophets who wrote the Torah and the prophetic writings spoke of the Messiah and the Savior who was to come, testifying to Jehovah's salvation.

The angel Gabriel who came at the beginning of the first century came to prepare mankind for the coming of Jesus. Soon the prophecies about the Messiah announced above would be fulfilled. The angel Gabriel's message then, before the birth of Jesus, was a source of joy and gladness to the people, especially to Mary and her relatives. Thirty years after the fulfillment of the Messiah's birth, the prophet John came preparing for the Messiah's imminent coming.

The prophet John should not be confused with Jesus the Messiah and Savior. They were certainly cousins or relatives but they had different ministries that were complementary to each other but different. Good news is something that results in blessing for us. John the Baptist confirmed the coming of the Messiah, and when he saw Him he knew at once who He was.

In short, considering the strict meaning of confirmation, the Qur'an is not a confirmation of the message of Scripture, or of the Gospel, it is quite the opposite; it is a denial of the essential themes of the gospel, and especially of the message of the original angel Gabriel[2]. The Qur'an does not add a truth to the revelation then declared by the angel Gabriel about Jesus and about his prophet named John. What it does is add a lie or falsehood. The matter is more serious if we consider that he replaces such a message with another that was not revealed and that contradicts precisely what was previously revealed. It is like mixing it with a little water, although the mixture maintains the same appearance and the milk is adulterated. It is clear that the revelation that Muhammad received is not the same revelation that was first faithfully delivered by the angel Gabriel. The angel Gabriel and his prophet deserve the exhortation of Surah 6:115,

[2] Here , the original angel Gabriel is the angel who was talking with Mary in the first century, almost six centuries before the birth of Muhammad in 570 A.C on Medina.

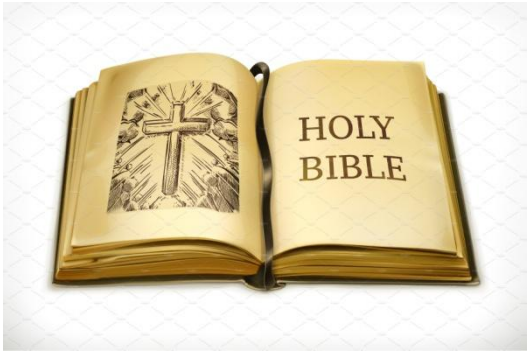
> "The word of your Lord has been fulfilled in truth and righteousness. No one can change His words. He is the All-Hearing, All-Knowing[3]."

The revelation is unwavering. No one is authorized to change or replace it. Not even an angel from heaven- But at the end of the day a book is a book, it is something material, it has intellectual authors and responsible protagonists. We can observe without a doubt how the angel Gabriel of the Qur'an has dared in the name of the true angel Gabriel to change the message ordained and revealed by God. God's truth is unalterable; No one should change it with the evil intention of deceiving others. Do we agree with this? Otherwise, we would also be partakers of the sin of changing God's Scriptures. True believers must preserve the message as they received it from their teachers or from those who were ministers of the Word or messengers of God, whether prophets, angels, or apostles. That word is Truth, it is guidance to men and the true Criterion given by God for those who trust in His revelation.



According to the judgment of the Qur'an the evil one here, is one who do not preserves the revelation as the first angel Gabriel does, and someone who changes the revelation by changing his message as seen in the work of the later angel Gabriel: the angel Gabriel of the Prophet Muhammad Does.

[3] Surah 6: 115

Muhammad also deserves this epithet? We must not forget the devastating words of the Qur'an,

> Is there anyone more wicked than one who invents a lie against God or denies His signs? These will have the destination for which they have been intended. When, at last, Our messengers come to them to call them, they will say: "Where is that which you invoked instead of calling on God?" They will say, "They have forsaken us!" Then they will testify against themselves their unbelief."[4] Surah 7:37
> "It is not like a prophet to commit fraud. Whoever defrauds will take what is defrauded on the Day of Resurrection. Then, everyone will receive what they deserve. And they will not be treated unfairly.
> "Those who conceal the clear proofs and the Direction which We have revealed, after having made them clear to men in the Scriptures, incur the curse of God and of men.[5]
> "Those who hide any of the Scripture that God has revealed and sell it for less will only take fire in their bowels and God will not speak to them on the Day of Resurrection or declare them pure. They will have a painful punishment [6].
> "Those who hide something from Scripture"[7]
> The truth cannot be falsified or hidden"[8]
> "Do not disguise the Truth with falsehood, nor hide the Truth by knowing it!"

Muhammad makes claims that are not supported by the angel Gabriel's message first, omitting and concealing part of his message to Zechariah and Mary. This is undoubtedly a form of fraud. It is a very serious and dangerous thing to omit and hide part of God's message through His messengers. Muhammad himself has declared,

> Woe to those who write the Scripture with their hands and then say, "This is from God," and then sell it for nothing! Woe to them for what their hands have written! Woe to them for what they have committed![9]

What is the seriousness of this fact? Anyone who adds and omits content to the message of God's messengers is violating God's law, and at the same time he is lying to us and we cannot trust a written or unwritten message based on the false claims of a prophet or apostle. What does it mean to believe here? It means having absolute confidence in someone's statements, commands, promises, and teachings. Does Muhammad really believe in the message of the messengers sent by God before the beginning of Islam as he claims in Surah 2:136? If we consider the whole message of the angel Gabriel and the message of the prophet, they proceed with deceit and with great subtlety. He has committed what Muhammad himself has pointed out as not believing in the signs of God, he has invented lies and committed frauds to deceive his followers.

There is a big difference between the gospel of Jesus and the gospel of Muhammad. The gospel here is the message of each of these actors. The biggest difference, however, is in the character of each of these actors. I hope to refer to them soon in a future book. Reading the gospels is enough to realize Jesus' superiority in his personal leadership and his beneficial influence over the other leaders of the world. What did the Lord's prophets receive that we too should know, and especially keep about, Jesus and his gospel? The Qur'an tells us about the Gospel that was delivered by the previous messengers.[10]

> "He has revealed to you the Scripture with the Truth, in confirmation of the previous messages. He has revealed the Torah and the Gospel 4 . before , as a direction for men, and has revealed the Criterion. Those who do not believe in the signs of God will have severe punishment. God is powerful, avenger."

The Qur'an recognizes that a Gospel was presented by the previous messengers and for "guidance to men", and with the Criterion. This power to give direction reaffirms the authority of the Torah and the Gospel. He also states that the task of the Qur'an is the "confirmation" of those previous messages. He says it to inspire confidence in his listeners. The word gospel appears many times in the Qur'an. It's a powerful word. Muhammad needs it to give authenticity to his message. But he is necessarily forced not to dispense with the authority of the Gospel message. The gospel is the good news of God, it is God's message for all humanity, for all generations. The point is that there is no indication that God has different gospels for different generations. The word of God, let us remember, "abides forever" Isaiah 40:8. A biblical adjective for the Gospel is eternal being, which speaks of its longevity, until it is necessary for it to be witnessed, confirmed, and proclaimed to all nations. [11]The spread of the Gospel or good news of God is not through the sword or holy wars or Jihad, or crusades; it is through the proclamation of the gospel of Jesus Christ, according to the same words of Jesus: "And you will receive power when it has come upon you the Holy Spirit[12]"

The prophets and the original angel Gabriel received the good news of Jesus, what we call the Gospel of Jesus. Muhammad says that he makes no distinction between the messages received from the Lord, declaring "we make no distinction between any of them, and we submit to Him." [13]Is Muhammad really serious? Before he said that "we believe in God and in what has been revealed to us," and now he affirms that he submits to the messages of the Lord. Is that what the Qur'an reveals, Muhammad's faith in the revealed message of God, and his submission to the will of God? Does he who demands submission to Allah truly submit to the will of God? Muhammad intends to be equal in authority to the prophets who spoke on behalf of God and of whom the sacred Scripture testifies. An examination reveals to us that Muhammad does not truly submit to the revelation of God given through his messengers, because he intentionally omits an essential part of the Gospel message delivered by the initial angel Gabriel.[14] Does not the Qur'an say: Is there anyone who is more impious than he who conceals a testimony he has received from God? God is attentive to what you do.[15]

Here we have an ethical instrument to judge Muhammad himself and anyone in this world or out of this world who dares to try to change or modify said Gospel or revelation of God. For Jesus, this gospel must be proclaimed, confirmed, and guarded by his community that follows God in every generation. Any attempt to contradict God's message will only show the wickedness of such a heart. But if we consider depth psychology, Muhammad with the phrase "we make no distinction between any of them" makes it a platform to demand obedience and absolute submission from his subjects or followers. Under this consideration, Muhammad does not do what he claims to do, nor does he fulfill what he demands. What many people do not know is that he himself is not willing to take the step of obedience that he demands of others. He does not want the message of the true angel Gabriel, who is truly the good angel of our history, to be known. Muhammad has conspired with Gabriel to contradict the original, authentic message of the Gospel of Jesus and to conceal it. With hypocrisy he writes as part of his verses: "Do not disguise the Truth with lies, nor hide the Truth knowing it! Mohammed knows the truth of the gospel, he knows very well the message of the original and true angel Gabriel and he has hidden it in what suits him. Can Muhammad be a true prophet? Should we trust his words?

There is a big difference between the gospel of Jesus and the gospel of the Qur'an which is the same gospel of Muhammad. We know that the intellectual author of the Gospel of Muhammad and the Qur'an is the angel Gabriel of the Prophet Muhammad (and who sent this angel Gabriel). We also know, according to the assumption of Islam, that Muhammad's angel Gabriel is a messenger sent by Allah. So Allah is responsible for the work and work of both angel and prophet, for both are sent from Allah, according to the testimony of Muhammad himself and the Qur'an.

Let us remember that the gospel means good news from God to people of good will. The initial gospel of the angel Gabriel eventually becomes the gospel of Jesus: God's grace and forgiveness for sinners. Those who do not have good will in their hearts do not know how to see in the Gospel the abundance of love and grace offered to humanity. The gospel here is the message of each of these actors. The biggest difference, however, is in the character of each of these actors and their messages. Reading both gospels is enough to realize Jesus' superiority in his personal leadership and his beneficial influence over the other leaders of the world. What did the Lord's prophets receive that we too should know, and especially keep about, Jesus and his gospel?

The Qur'an tells us about the Gospel that was delivered by the previous messengers. And they speak of the credibility of such messengers. A pastor or prophet is wrong to question the reliability of the Torah and the Gospel. According to the Qur'an, the good news sent to men is Muhammad himself, as sent for the news, and his teaching in the name of Allah. According to the Gospel of Scripture, the Gospel is God's good news to men represented in Jesus himself and the preaching of the prophet John and his demands for faith and repentance and this was announced by the angel Gabriel of the first century. The gospel is God's good news to men in the fulfillment of the prophecies that inaugurate a new era of peace and grace for men of good will. It is the fulfillment of the final chapter of salvation history.

The Qur'an recognizes that the previous messengers presented a Gospel to "guide men," and with the Criterion and direction that people need. This power of giving direction reaffirms the authority of the Torah and the Gospel descended from heaven. Muhammad contradicts himself because on the one hand he points out how the Gospel has the authority of heaven but on the other hand he ignores the central message of that gospel. The word gospel appears many times in the Qur'an. It is a powerful word and Muhammad needs it to give authenticity to his message, he undertakes to confirm that message but to confirm it you have to approve it and you have to make it known to the peoples. Muhammad is aware of the sins that men possess. He has written,

> "who say, 'Lord! We believe! Forgive us, then, our sins and save us from the punishment of the Fire! ». But Muhammad forgets or ignores God's plan to deal with the sin of the world.

Muhammad did well to recognize the heavenly authority present in the Gospel that he was descended from heaven, but the good news that it announces is ignored by him and far from being proclaimed the opposite is done. In Muslim countries the proclamation of the gospel is forbidden. Why prohibit what was proclaimed by the angel Gabriel, the prophet John, Jesus himself, his disciples, and the Holy Spirit as the history of God's salvation. Why forbid something that is God's will for all nations to receive and hear? By forbidding the proclamation of the Gospel they are going against what the initial angel Gabriel announced as the perfect and loving will of God. The center of the good news is God's salvation. It is all that God does and has permitted that men may know His love and forgiveness through the sacrificial work of Him whom He has appointed as His Messiah and Christ, and to whom He has granted authority to call Himself the Son of the Most High, to which the angel Gabriel testified. God's concern is the forgiveness and deliverance of man from his sins. Are we willing to accept this testimony as valid or not? Muhammad claims, Allah has revealed the Scripture with the Truth, and Muhammad's angel Gabriel has hidden that Truth by ignoring it and not mentioning it in his Qur'an.

The Scripture that the Qur'an affirms has revealed the Truth teaches the coming of a Savior to earth to carry out the last stage of salvation history. The fact that Jesus sent his disciples to all nations with his message of salvation confirms what the angel Gabriel and the prophets announced. God's will is that the gospel of the Messiah and Savior be proclaimed to all nations. This command to proclaim the gospel has nothing to do with any aspiration to earthly or territorial dominions. It has nothing to do with human imperialism. It is only God's desire that his forgiving love be known in all nations through Jesus' personal sacrifice for sinners on a cross. This is the true gospel. We must remember the words of the apostle Paul regarding gospels other than the one preached by Jesus, and his apostles,

I am amazed that so soon you have turned away from him who called you by grace to a different gospel.7 Not that there is another, but there are some who trouble you and want to pervert the gospel of Christ.8 But if even we, or an angel from heaven, proclaim a gospel contrary to that which we proclaim to you, let him be accursed.9 As we have said before, Also now we repeat: If anyone proclaims to you any gospel contrary to that which you received, let him be accursed.

The word of God, remember, "endures forever" (Isaiah 40:8). A biblical adjective for the Gospel is to be eternal, which speaks of its longevity, until it is necessary for it to be witnessed, confirmed, and proclaimed to all nations. The spread of the Gospel or the good news of God is not through the sword or holy wars or Jihad, or the Crusades, it is through the proclamation of the gospel of Jesus Christ, according to the very words of Jesus: "And you will receive power" when the Holy Spirit has come upon you[16].

The prophets and the original angel Gabriel received the good news of Jesus, what we call the Gospel of Jesus. Muhammad says that he makes no distinction between the messages received from the Lord, declaring that "we make no distinction between any of them and submit to Him." Is Muhammad really serious? He used to say that "we believe in God and in what has been revealed to us," and now he affirms that he submits to the Lord's messages. Is that what the Qur'an reveals, Muhammad's faith in God's revealed message and his submission to God's will? Does one who demands submission to Allah really submit to the will of God? Such submission has been impossible to see.

Muhammad claims to be equal in authority to the prophets who spoke in the name of God and to whom Holy Scripture testifies. An examination reveals that Muhammad does not truly submit to God's revelation given through his messengers, because he intentionally omits an essential part of the Gospel message delivered by the initial angel Gabriel. [17] The most serious thing is that he has fallen into what he says we should not do, committing fraud with the word of God. Does not the Qur'an say: "Is there anyone more wicked than he who conceals a testimony that he has received from God?" God is watching what you do.[18] The Qur'an itself calls him impious, and wicked.

What many people do not know is that he himself is not willing to take the step of obedience that he demands of others. He does not want the message of the true angel Gabriel, who is truly the good angel of our history, to be known. Muhammad has conspired with his angel Gabriel to contradict the original, authentic message of the Gospel of Jesus and to conceal it. With hypocrisy he writes as part of his verses: "Do not disguise the Truth with lies, nor hide the Truth knowing it! Mohammed knows the truth of the gospel, he knows very well the message of the original and true angel Gabriel and he has hidden it in what suits him. Can someone who acts in this way be a true prophet? Should we trust his words?

In my personal opinion, his main interest is to strengthen the image of spiritual authority in front of his community; If you must use force, you will have no qualms about using it [19]. Use the content of the book of the Qur'an for that purpose. This makes Islam a religion of fear. Muhammad, however, cannot prevent the influence of the Judeo-Christian Scriptures as a source of authority. He publicly pledges not to make distinctions between the messages of the prophets and that includes him. Muhammad is obliged to confirm a message in which he does not believe. The confirmation that he mentions so much is nowhere to be found, and the explanation is simple; He has no interest in confirming the gospel because it opposes its main teachings.

During the fraud of Venezuela's elections in 2024, Maduro said that he had the minutes that proved his victory, announced that he would soon deliver them, while on the other hand he repressed his citizens, and even ordered the headquarters of his opponents to be assaulted. He promises to confirm his victory but the truth of the matter is that everything he does is a fraud to stay in power and continue to dominate his people. Muhammad in the Qur'an omits the vicarious and substitutional death of Jesus, omits the revelation of his character as Son of God and Son of the Most High, erases all mention of the cross of Christ and denies his death as a sacrifice for the sins of humanity. In other words, it brushes aside and ignores the story of God's redemption for sinners. It is a ver. He promise to bring confirmation of the Book but no does it. y self-centered maneuver, and dangerous because it is a way of affirming that God's plans do not work. And all those teachings come from the false angel Gabriel and everything that this angel Gabriel of Muhammad says comes from Allah who is the one who has authorized and sent him. He cries out that he has the true gospel, but the truth of the matter is that he has cheated his gospel.

Muhammad also ignores the central themes of the Gospel that he claims to believe and submit to and that were taught by the Jewish prophets who lived before him, he intentionally ignores the message of the initial angel Gabriel himself. In other words, Muhammad is not telling the truth, he lies and the people who follow him do not realize it, because Muhammad hides the truth from them, and those who hide the Truth of the Gospel of God are being judged in the Qur'an as evil as in Surah[20] . The history of salvation is an act of God's sovereignty. If He chose to give His own Son in substitution and recompense for our iniquities and sins, it is His sovereignty full of goodness and grace. What Mohammed and the angel Gabriel have done is to belittle the love and grace of God that motivates the history of salvation. Remember, salvation history is God's perfect plan to bring about forgiveness and deliverance from sins to a humanity that lives under the terror of sin's dominion and the danger of eternal hell as payment for those sins.

The truth is that Muhammad decided to contradict the initial message of the angel Gabriel. By acting in this way he has opposed the revelation given by this angel. His own judgment falls on him because the Qur'an says:

[20] Surah 2: 160, Mawlawi Sher Traslation.

> "And those who do not judge by what Allah has sent down, these are the disbelievers." And whoever renounces this right shall be an atonement for his sins; And whoever does not judge by what Allah has sent down, these are the evildoers." [21].

Is it not true that the gospel has come down from heaven? What God has revealed is His saving plan where an innocent person carries on his shoulders the sin of all others through a vicarious death. Exactly as the prophet Isaiah prophesied in chapter fifty-three. God has revealed that His Son came to our humanity as the perfect victim of that redemptive sacrifice and at the same time as the fulfillment of the prophecies that foretold it. God's wisdom and love are shown in that perfect plan. Muhammad has rejected that wisdom, that plan, and that incomprehensible and undeserved love of God for all sinners.

This is what Muhammad has hidden through his angel Gabriel and his book the Qur'an. If the angel Gabriel of the Qur'an is not the real one, it is obvious that Muhammad's proposal is false; they have fallen into the trap of the path of religion and human works, and they want others to fall into it. The way revealed by God is the way of grace and forgiveness revealed in Jesus' death for our sins and in the victory over death. The joy of the community that has followed Jesus despite suffering is explained by the real bodily resurrection of Jesus that confirmed God's perfect plan. Jesus is the living hope of believers in his gospel.

From the perspective of the angel Gabriel the history of salvation implied the coming of a savior named Christ Jesus and the ancient prophecies spoke not of a political Messiah but of a Messiah who dies for sin and the redemption of others, example Isaiah 53:6. However, we note that the angel Gabriel of the Qur'an curiously has no interest in this good news of the angel Gabriel who anticipated the event that split history in two; before and after Jesus. But he is necessarily compelled not to dispense with the authority of Gabriel's heavenly message. The gospel is God's good news, it is God's message to all mankind to all nations. The gospel is a powerful message that has to do with the ministry of the angel Gabriel who came to earth to announce the coming of Jesus and with it the fulfillment of the prophecies. The angel approves that the prophecies about the Messiah and about Jesus are true prior to the first century with a message of peace and hope for humanity. It was the announcement of the coming of a Savior Messiah whose identity has its origin in heaven, since he was called by the prophet John as the Son of God and by the angel Gabriel himself as the Son of the Most High.

I see a connection between president Maduro of Venezuela and the false angel Gabriel. Muhammad is necessarily forced not to dispense with the authority of the initial Gabriel heavenly message, although he rejects his message and devises a plan consisting of the creation of a false Gabriel. Maduro invents false minutes to give false legality to his fraud, he has prepared false minutes and a false angel as his queen in his game against the Truth. Its purpose is something similar; it is control and power over minds, spirits, and hearts. The fraud is to appear legal in the same way that he has governed in recent decades, with false electoral victories. He has no real interest in the official rules. The purpose of the angel Gabriel and the prophet is to legitimize a false message. Just as Maduro presents false acts, false vows, Muhammad presents a false angel whom he calls the first angel Gabriel – a messenger of God – all to appear legal. They do not obey God's law, and therefore they do not respect God's word or His message, because they are willing to change it for a new religion, a new message, and this implies a new Bible. Maduro has prepared false elections, false minutes with false votes and a false legality that allows him the control he wants over a people without discernment and in need. The angel Gabriel is a trap, he represents false legality or authority, because he pretends to serve God when he is the opposite. He does things that are contrary to God's will. He is a rebellious angel and stubborn in opposing God. It's not the real first-century angel Gabriel, it is part of the fraud.

It is necessary to review what the Gospel is. The gospel is God's good news, it is God's message to all mankind to all nations. The gospel is a powerful message that has to do with the ministry of the angel Gabriel who came to earth to announce the coming of Jesus and with it the fulfillment of the prophecies. The initial angel Gabriel confirmed that the ancient prophecies around the Messiah and about Jesus were true. His coming to earth before the first century was with a message of peace and hope for mankind. It was the imminent coming of a Savior Messiah whose identity has its origin in heaven, since he was called by the prophet John as the Son of God[22] and by the angel Gabriel himself as the Son of the Most High[23]. A very important additional note is what the prophet John said about Jesus discovering his redemptive role—let's not forget that we must listen to the prophets and messengers of God—when he said, "Behold, the lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world."

[22] John 1: 34
[23] Luke 1: 32

The prophets and the original angel Gabriel received the good news of Jesus, what we call the Gospel of Jesus. Muhammad says that he makes no distinction between the messages received from the Lord, declaring that "we make no distinction between any of them and submit to Him." [24]¿Is Muhammad really serious? He used to say that "we believe in God and in what has been revealed to us," and now he affirms that he submits to the Lord's messages. Is that what the Qur'an reveals, Muhammad's faith in God's revealed message and his submission to God's will? Does one who demands submission to Allah really submit to the will of God? Such submission has been impossible to see. Muhammad claims to be equal in authority to the prophets who spoke in the name of God and to whom Holy Scripture testifies.

An examination reveals that Muhammad does not truly submit to God's revelation given through his messengers, because he intentionally omits an essential part of the Gospel message delivered by the initial angel Gabriel. [25] The most serious thing is that he has fallen into what he says we should not do, committing fraud with the word of God. Does not the Qur'an say: "Is there anyone more wicked than he who conceals a testimony that he has received from God?" God is attentive to what you do. The Qur'an itself calls him impious, and wicked.

Muhammad also ignores the central themes of the Gospel that he claims to believe and submit to and that were taught by the Jewish prophets who lived before him, he intentionally ignores the message of the initial angel Gabriel himself. In other words, Muhammad is not telling the truth, he lies and the people who follow him do not realize it, because Muhammad hides the truth from them, and those who hide the Truth of the Gospel of God are being judged in the Qur'an as evil or disbeliever.[26]

[24] Surah 2:136

[25] And I clarify, as was revealed in the gospel of Luke, chapters one and two. The reader can consult the Appendix.

[26] Leer Surah, 2:99, "Whoever is an enemy to Allah, and His angels, and His Messengers, and Gabriel, and Michael, then surely, Allah is an enemy to such disbelievers.' 7: 4, Follow that which has been sent down to you from your Lord, and follow no protectors other than Him. How little do you remember!

The truth is that Muhammad decided to contradict the initial message of the angel Gabriel. By acting in this way he has opposed the revelation given by this angel. His own judgment falls on him because the Qur'an says:

> "And those who do not judge by what Allah has sent down, these are the disbelievers." And whoever renounces this right shall be an atonement for his sins; And whoever does not judge by what Allah has sent down, these are the evildoers." [27].

The character of the Gospel of Muhammad is very different from that of Jesus, who is the Prince of Peace, the Savior, the Son of the Most High and not just an envoy or prophet. Muhammad condemns those who make distinctions with the messages coming from God. Mohammad here recognizes that not receiving or recognizing such revealed messages is NOT submitting to God; It is going against the will of God and deserves to be called perverse, [28]and also deserves punishment[29]. Here we have an ethical instrument to judge Muhammad himself and any person in this world or out of this world who dares to try to change or modify said Gospel or revelation from God. For Jesus this gospel must be doing proclaimed, confirmed and guarded by His community who follow God in every generation. Any attempt to contradict God's message will only show the perversity of such a heart.[30] But if we consider deep psychology, Muhammad with the phrase "we make no distinction between any of them" turns it into a platform to demand absolute obedience and submission from his subjects or followers. Under this consideration, Muhammad does not do what he says he does, nor does he fulfill what he demands.

What many people ignore is that he himself is not willing to take the step of obedience that he demands of others. He does not want the message of the true angel Gabriel, who is truly the good angel of our history, to be known. He knows it very well because, as we may recall, the Gabriel of the prophet Muhammad is supposed to be the same Gabriel who came to earth in the first century and his coming and mission was recorded in the gospel of Luke. Muhammad has conspired with Gabriel to contradict the original and authentic message of the Gospel of Jesus and hide it. With hypocrisy he writes as part of his verses, "Do not disguise the Truth with falsehood, nor [30] Surah 2: 90, 99. In the words of Jesus we find the main indication and sign that God's will is for His gospel to be preached to all nations. Let us carefully read his words in Matthew 28: 19-20, Luke 24: 47. Also read Acts 1: 8, Mark 16 : 15 . To oppose this message or gospel is to oppose God's desire for all nations to know the Gospel or good news of salvation.

hide the Truth by knowing it ! " [31]Muhammad knows the truth of the gospel, he knows very well the message of the original and true angel Gabriel and he has hidden it in what suits him. Can Muhammad be an authentic prophet? Should we give our trust to his sayings?

In my personal opinion, his main interest is to strengthen the image of spiritual authority in front of his community; If he must use force he will have no qualms about using it[32]. Use the content of the book of the Qur'an for that purpose. Muhammad however cannot prevent the influence of the Jewish Christian Scripture as a source of authority. He is publicly committed to making no distinction between the messages of the prophets and that includes him. Muhammad forced to confirm a message in which him do not believe. The confirmation that he mentions so much does not appear anywhere, and the explanation is simple; has no interest in confirming the gospel because it opposes its main teachings. He omits the vicarious and suffering death of Jesus in the cross; it omits the revelation of his character as Son of God and Son of the Most High, he erase all mention of the cross of Christ and denies its death as a sacrifice for the sins of humanity. He denies and hides vital information for the worlds and mankind about the life of Jesus and first angel Gabriel.

God's messenger as Muhammad with some bad intention ignores the central themes of the Gospel that he claims to believe and submit to and that were taught by the Jewish prophets who lived before him, he intentionally ignores the message of the initial angel Gabriel himself. Muhammad is not telling the truth, he lies and the people who follow him do not realize it, [32] Surah 2: 90, In fact refusing or renouncing the Muslim faith in some countries is punishable by the Blasphemy Law and the punishment can be capital punishment.

[31] Surah 2; 42

because Muhammad hides the truth, and those who hide the Truth of the Gospel of God are doing judged in the Qur'an as evil and perverse.[33] Muhammad lie against the true God. We must to trust him? In the Book the death of Jesus in the cross is the result love of God for us, a disciple of Jesus, who walked with him, talked with him, touched him, and adter wrote a gospel for the world wrote,

> "This is how much God loved the world: He gave his Son, his one and only Son. And this is why: so that no one need be destroyed; by believing in him, anyone can have a whole and lasting life. [34]

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life. [17] For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but in order that the world might be saved through him. [35]""
